Workplace Violence Prevention Overview

This session will highlight new requirements set forth under SB 553.

By July 1, 2024, California employers must implement a workplace violence prevention plan and provide the first round of annual training.

During this informational webinar, employment attorney Jennifer McQuarrie will provide an overview of the legal requirements and highlight training resources available to ensure your community complies. We will also discuss best practices and tips regarding records retention.

Please note that this webinar does not satisfy the training requirements for SB 553; it will only provide guidance on how to implement it.

This informational webinar will include a question-and-answer session.

Participants will earn six units of MCM credits. Webinar will be 1.5 hours in duration. All details can be found at wma.org/aprilwebinar2024.
